SYNOPSISOF OPINIONS OF THE NEW YORK PRESS.

From the New York Times, May 4.]
THE FIRE KING.—A few invited guests were treated to a novel spectacle yesterday afternoon at Jones's Wood. Signor Cristoforo Buono Core was kind enough to roast himself for their private gratification. A neat little bower was constructed of chip and brushwood, and a gentleman, probably a young salamander, and still in the blue scate, set fire to it. The wind was high, and there was soon a good blaze, hotenough to force the curious back from their positions, and to cause the young salamander. from their positions, and to cause the young sala-mander to look red in the face. The old salaman-der began to make himself at home. He stepped into the roaring mass, walked leisurely among the flames, made his appearance at the four entrances of the structure, and remained fizzing and cooking until the light material was all consumed. Wherever the flames were fiercest he pirced himself, and although his helmet cracked and hugh blisters of a saline character bulged out on it, he himself was safe and sound; neither spent in wind nor flushed in face. Such a contrivance certainly merits attention in a humanitarian point of view. The fire department, in particular, should look into the matter.

THE ITALIAN SALAMANDER. [From the New York Daily News, May 20.]
The most remarkable exhibition which we have had the good fortune to witness for a long time, took place at Jones's Wood on Wednesday afternoon. Cristoforo Buono Core, who has created great excitement not only among the masses of the people of London, but also upon its savants, ap-peared at Jones's Wood at the time named to give peared at Jones's wood at the time named to give an exhibition to a select number of gentlemen of the wonderful merits of a dress which he has in-vented, and which, he claims, is not only imper-vious to fire, but, when worn, will preserve the body from injury, though the dress be in actual contact with flame. This he puts on, of course, before going into the fire, which is prepared as follows: Two iron cages are formed to interfollows; Two iron cages are formed to intersect each other, about fifteen feet long by seven feet high, but only three feet wide, with four openings or doorways. These he completely surrounds and covers with light brushwood, which is fired, and when the whole becomes, as it were, one body of flame, he enters, traverses the several narrow burning avenues, passing in and out at each opening with apparent ease and perfectly un harmed. Soon after the wood had been fired the heat was so great that the spectator could not stand nearer to it than eight or ten yards, and at that distance only with great discomfort. All who saw the ex-periment were perfectly satisfied that he could do all he promised. In fact, he appeared to be the only dissatisfied person on the ground, for the reason that the fire was not hot enough for him. The exhibition will be repeated on Wednesday next. and the proprietor of the grounds has made liberal preparations for the enjoyment of visitors.

From the New York Sun, May 19.1 Yesterday a number of newspaper reporters and other persons visited Jones's Wood to see an Italian, Signor Buono Core, walk unscathed through a hot fire. About 4 o'clock the gentleman made his appearance clothed in a suit of canvas, painted Around an iron arbor, with four entrances. lay a large pile of light brushwood. This was ignited. The Italian then unconcernedly walked through the burning mass, remaining amid the flames until the wood had been consumed. The exhibition completely demonstrated the practica-bility of persons walking through fire unharmed, when clothed in fire-proof garments. On uncov-ering, Signor Core was discovered in a state of profuse perspiration and in no wise injured by the

THE FIRE KING-REMARKABLE EXHIBITION.

[From the Brooklyn Union, May 19.]

A private exhibition of a very novel character was given yesterday in Jones's Wood by an Italian gentleman who styled himself Christoforo Buono Core, or the Fire King, who stood in the midst of a fierce fire for nearly half an hour, thoroughly establishing his claim to the title he has assumed establishing his claim to the title he has assumed The entertainment was quite curieus, but the Signary or has higher claims for his invention than a mere show. It was accorded by all present yesterday that the Signor made good his claims, and his invention merits the attention of those interested-and who is not?-in the saving of human life.

A SALAMANDER From the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, May 19.1 There are a great many wonderful things being done in and around New York just now by the spirits and magicians, but these manifestations are of no practical utility, except to the exhibitors, who are reaping a rich harvest from the credulous. Something that is at once curious and useful has, however, been brought to public no-tice. A Signor Buono Core has invented a firetice. A Signor Buono Core has invented a pre-proof suit, in which he can walk into a burning building with flames playing around him and feel no inconvenience. This discovery may be of great service. It is not expected that every one will at once order a salamander outfit, and keep it in the house in case of fire, but it will be a good thing for each fire company to be provided with a suit, which will enable the wearer to enter burning buildings, save property, and assist materially in extinguishing fires.

[From the Evening Express, May 20.]
Have we a salamander among us? If by a salamander is meant a living being which can walk unharmed, like the three young men in the Scripture story, through a fiery furnace, and come out unscathed, we think Signor Buono Core is fairly entitled to the appellation, albeit the common no tion that the little reptile from which he de rives it can do the like with impunity is a fabulous idea. A few days ago the Signor invited a party to go up to Jones's Wood and witness a demonstration of his right to be considered a modern Abednego. He entered an iron cage around, over, and upen which an intensely hot fire was burning all the while, and made himself quite at home therein, for some space. Nor did he seem to care more for the exposure than if he were walking like Adam in Eden, in a garden in the cool of the evening. He will give his first public exhibition at Jones's Wood next Wednesday afternoon. It certainly is a very curious feet. ternoon. It certainly is a very curious feat.

[From the Saturday Courier, May 21.]
Signor Buono Core on Wednesday last gave a private exhibition to the members of the press at Jones's Wood. His arrangement consists of a light iron frame work, standing about ten feet high, with exits and entrances at each end and side, which is plentifully covered with brushwood, saplings and shavings, and a dress somewhat resembling that of the submarine diver.

A young gentleman, evidently disposed to make light of the affair, distributed lucifer matches among those present, with a request to assist in firing the pile, which was speedily accomplished, and as the heat drove the crowd backward, Buono Core, accoutered in his novel dress, with a "martial stalk," entered the flames, which, judging by a remark he made as he did so, were scarcely intense enough to satisfy his inordinate desire to be comfortably warm!

The most ample arrangements have been per-fected to have the feat performed in the MOST SATISFACTORY MANNER

ARMY OF POTOMAC. The Siege of Petersburg-Condition of Affairs at the Front. Information has been received from the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, dated July 25, which says that the shelling and picket firing between the 9th corps and the enemy was yesterday more brisk than usual, and was kept up all day. During the afternoon of Saturday a shell from one of our guns struck a caisson of the enemy's, which exploded with a loud noise. Very few casualties occur considering the large quantity of powder spent by both parties. No exchange of papers has been made between the pickets for some days past, the rebel commanders having strictly prohibited it. A Richmond paper of the 22d claims a decided victory at Atlanta, driving our forces back with tremendous loss.

[We know by official dispatches that the bat-tle of the 22d (Friday last) was decidedly favorable to us.—ED.] It also says that our forces were defeated at Snicker's Gap by General Early, where they took a number of prisoners. Deserters are not so numerous as they were a week ago, the enemy seeming to keep a strict watch for them along the lines.

FROM TEXAS AND LOUISIANA. CAIRO, July 26 .- A private letter from a well known gentleman of New Orleans to the True Delta, dated Villa Contenta, Mexico, June 26, states that intelligence had just been received from the country above Matamoras, that Gen.

Ford, commanding the rebel forces at Eagle Pass, had demanded the surrender of Brownsville, Texas. He was said to be an enterprising soldier and lead good troops, all Texans, except 1,000 Mexican outlaws and renegades. Gen. Herron, commanding at Brownsville, was said to be strongly entrenched, and had a force capable of taking the offensive, if necessarv.

Gen. Brayman had arrived at Natchez, and assumed command there, relieving Col. Far-rar, who has been placed in charge of Fort McPherson. Gen. Young, provost marshal at Natchez, died recently at Viadola, La.

Shrevesport papers report rebel soldiers destroying crops near Natchez. There was fair inquiry for cotton at New Orleans, but absence of news from New York caused an advance of 2 % a3 cts., which checked speculations; 100 bales sold on private terms. Sugar-yellow clarified, 27 % a28 cents. Prime molasses, 90 cents. Western provisions are in decided request, but operations are restricted by slight supplies and higher prices. The stock of flour is much reduced; low to good superfine, $9.87a$10.25; choice, $10.50, but higher Skirmishing between Crook and Breckin. ridge-Object of the Enemy's Demonstra. tion-Reported Reoccupation of Martins. burg by the Union Forces.

BALTIMORE, July 27-11.20 p. m .- Harper's Ferry is still in our possession, and there has been no attack upon that point as yet. The rebels are not yet believed to have entered Maryland. A scout who left Martinsburg at seven o'clock last night, crossed at Shepherdstown and came hither this morning, reports heavy skirmishing

at Martinsburg, between General Crook and the rebels under Breckinridge, on Monday, up to five o'clock. Our forces fell back to this side of the Potomae, from Martinsburg to Williamsport, and the rebels evinced no disposition to cross, and refugees from Washington and other western counties were returning to their homes. It was generally supposed that the object of the rebels was to keep our forces out of the valley whilst they gathered in the harvest. Later reports say that we have re-occupied

Terrible Punishment of the Enemy-Gen. Hood Reported Killed-Gen. Rosseau's

LOUISVILLE, July 27.-Information has been received from an officer at the front, who says that in two battles in front of Atlanta we have destroyed the better portion of the enemy's two best corps. All the prisoners captured on the 25d and 23d unite in saying the rebel Gen. Hood was killed on the 22d. Maj. Gen. Rosseau and staff arrived last night from Marietta. The raid was the most successful during the war. The total loss was five killed and thirteen wounded, captured, and paroled. Two thousand rebels were killed and wounded, and 200 were also captured, together with 800 horses and mules, and about the same number of contrabands. The expedition destroyed thirty-two miles of railroad, great quantities of stores, cotton, &c., and thirteen railroad depots at various points on the Atlanta and Montgomery railroad.

FROM GEN. CURTIS' COMMAND. Destruction of Stores by the Indians-Militia to Take the Field. St. Louis, July 27 .- The Democrat's Fort Leavenworth special says the Indians have attacked our trains and destroyed a large amount of stores on the Santa Fe road. Gen. Curtis has only a small force in that region, but is raising militia for service against the Indians, and has created the district of Upper Kansas, including Forts Riley, Larned, and Lyons, and assigned General Blunt to the command. He leaves for the field at once. Defensive movements are being rapidly prepared.

Organization of the Colored Militia in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, July 27, 11.30 p. m .- Gen. Wallace has issued orders for the immediate enrollment of all the able-bodied colored men in this city, directing that they be forthwith organized into companies and regiments, and armed, equipped, and drilled. Officers will be appointed by the Mayor, and the force will constitute a part of the special military defence of the city. The order warns disloyal masters and employers not to interfere with the execution of these orders.

The leagues are also actively engaged in perfecting their military organization.

Assassination in Kansas. The following dispatch was received in this city last evening: "WYANDOTTE, Kansas, July 27 .- Samuel Hallett has just been basely assassinated in the streets of Wyandotte." This gentleman, it will be remembered, was engaged in the construction of the Pacific railroad, eastern division, in Kansas, he and his party being in controversy with Gen. Fremont and his associates. The boys of the 8th East Tennessee regiment, who have been fighting most gallantly with Gen. Sherman, held an election for Pres ident a few days since. Out of about 700 men, only one vote was cast against Lincoln and Johnson. The boys immediately notified the lonely fellow that if he did not change his mind in three days he must leave the army. As they were in earnest, and as he has not left the regiment, it is presumed that he considers

The New York policemen, in addition to their drill practice, have to study the Metro-politan police law, and learn the theory of making arrests and under what circumstances they are justified in using the authority vested in them.

The plan of putting representative recruits into the army is working well in Boston; a number of the most prominent citizens not liable to military duty, having availed themselves of the plan.

Death of Capt. John Mitchell.

From the Peters burg Express, July 23.1 We deeply regret to announce that Captain John Mitchell, of the artillery, so nobly identified with the defence of Morris Island, and lately of Fort Sumter, was killed on Tuesday lest on the parapet of Fort Sumter.

This is the second gallant son that Mr. Mitchell has lost in this war.

schedule, have authorized the appointment of commissioners of appraisement, who, having consulted with the most prominent farmers and business men near Richmond, have fixed upon the annexed tariff, and prohibited private parties from raising articles of consumption to extremely high rates. A hope is expressed that the condition of the needy and distressed will be ameliorated by it, and that the rates will be accepted as just and fair by the preducers. The currency has greatly depreciated below the specie standard, and there is a small supply of grain, accompanied with a very great demand for consumption.

The following standard is, then, the legal prices allowed by law as the maximum rate to be paid by Government for all articles impressed in the usual places of sale, and when impressed on farms or elsewhere, the same prices are to be paid:

Wheat, prime, white or red, per bushel of 6) lbs. $50; flour, good, fine, per bbl. of 196 lbs., $182 flour, superfine, per bol. of 196 lbs., $150; flour, extra superfine, per bol. of 196 lbs., $150; flour, family, per bol. of 196 lbs., $168; corn, prime, white or yellow, per bushel of 56 lbs., 24; unsheiled corn, prime, white or yellow, per bushel of 56 lbs., $23 70; corn meal, good, per bushel of 50 lbs., $95 26; rye, prime, per per bushel of 56 lbs., $19 20; cleaned oa's, prime, per bushel of 56 lbs., $19 20; cleaned oa's, prime, per bushel of 32 lbs., $15, wheat bran, good, per bushel of 17 lbs., $8; shorts, good, per bushel of 22 lbs., $4 20; brown stuff good, per bushel of 38 lbs., $5 40; ship stuff good, per bushes of 57 lbs., $8 40; bacon, good, hog round, per lb. $65, porth self, good, p per lb., $5; pork, salt, good, per lb., $864; pork, fresh, iat and good, per lb., net weight, $8 29; lard, good, per lb., $5; peas, good, per bushel, $80; beans, good, per bushel, $80; polatoes, good Irish, per bushel, $10; potatoes, good sweet, per bushel, $12; onions, good, per bushel, $50; dried peaches, good, pealed, per bushel, $12; dried peaches, good, unpealed, per bushel, $12; dried apples, good, pealed, per bushel, $12; dried apples, good, pealed, per bushel, $2 bushel, $8.

and the Florida.

The reported engagement between the United States steamer Kearsarge and the rebel cruiser Florida proves to be without foundation, at least so far as the Kearsarge is concerned, for she was off Dover at the time, and still remained there. The United States steamer Sacramento, from Cherbourg, had joined the Kearsarge off Dover. The Southampton correspondent of the Daily News, writing on the 15th, says: "It is almost on Wednesday. The news brought by the Wonder was received on board just as she was leaving Jersey. There is a telegraphic communication between England and Jersey via France, and a mail packet arrived from Jersey arrived at Weymouth last night, and yet there is no confirmation of the news. It is said that the Florida was waiting off the Man-quils for the Kearsarge. The captain of the Wonder saw no sign of a steamer there. The two Confederate steamers supposed to be in the channel at the present time are the Florida and General Lee. The Florida is about the size of the Alabama. The following are the armaments and tonnage of the three certain that no sea fight took place off Jersey

Federal vessels now in the channel, viz: Kearsarge, 8 guns, 1,031 tons; Sacramento, 10 guns, 1,367 tons; Niagara, 32 guns, 4,529 tons. A letter has been received this morning from a captain in the English navy, written on the night of the 13th, at Jersey, in which letter there is no allusion to the sea fight off that island. The Paris correspondent of the Daily News, writing on the evening of the 14th, says: "The Federal corvette Sacramento steamed ont of Cherbourg harbor yesterday morning at daybreak, and it is supposed that she has a rendezvous with the Niagara somewhere at sea. A rumor is current in Cherbourg that the Federal and Confederate naval officers have agreed to have a sea fight within the next ten days, between the Sacramento and the Niagara on the one side, and the General Lee frigate and a Confederate corvette, which was lately seen in Point, in the English channel, on the 13th of the Straits of Gibralta, on the other. It is further said to be arranged that the battle is to come off in sight of the coast of France, and not further than fifteen kilometres from Cherbourg." The Niagara was seen cruising off Start

Proposed Mediation in America An influential deputation from the society for obtaining a cessation of hostilities waited on Lord Palmerston on the 15th July, for the purpose of urging the British Government to take steps to bring about peace between the belligerents in America. The deputation consisted of the Marquis of Clanricarde, the Bishop of Chichester, several members of Parliament, and other gentlemen, including Mr. Spence, of Liverpool, the pro-southern writer for the Times. It was explained that the deputation was devoid of any party character, and would chiefly urge the plea of humanity. The Marquis of Clanricarde and Mr. Spence showed the necessity, if possible, of arresting the shedding of blood in America. Lord Palmerston, in reply, said the Government was lead to think, from all accounts that reached them, that this was not the moment at which any mediatory proposals could be usefully made. Each party was equally confident in the ultimate success of their cause, and the North was especially jealous of interference. If the opportunity for mediation presented itself, the Government would gladly avail

Mason's Interview with Palmerston. The Morning Herald of he 16th contains the following paragraph: "We understand that the Hon. J. Mason had an unofficial interview with Lord Palmerston at Cambridge House, on the introduction of Mr. Lindsay, and that the meeting was satisfactory to all parties. The withdrawal of Mr. Lindsay's motion (that for the recognition of the South) was, it is said, the result of the interview-the Premier having given a sort of implied promise to support it at a more opportune moment-that is to say, when Grant and Sherman has been defeated, and the Confederacy stands in no aid of recognition." Demand for American Stocks. The Times in its city article says: "The advices from Frankfort mention that the great rise in exchanges at New York had been met by a corresponding fall in the prices of Federal stocks, but at the reduced quotations, buyers came forward in such numbers that not only large sums brought from New York, but even various parcels sold out by bankers for small speculators, could still be disposed of at an advance of four per cent. on New York prices. As soon as these sales were over, quotations recovered between one and two per cent. The eagerness of our public, it is observed, to invest in American funds, after so many disappointments, is wonderful. In spite of the bad political and yet worse financial reports, every reduction in the price brings for ward new purchasers, mostly small capitalists."

19 The Pittsburg (Pa.) Dental Association have adopted resolutions condemning the practice of administering chloroform in trifling operations, and censuring those persons who demand its administration on all occasions of slight pain. This expression made on account of the recent death of a patient who insisted upon having chloroform administered, although her system was not in a condition to receive it. Rev. W. P. Campbell, of Nashville, Tenn., last month proposed to Gen. Sherman to gather up a lot of Confederate money in Nashville and go South and purchase cotton. In consideration of receiving a pass, he agreed to divide the profits with the General. The old war-horse could not see it, and at once ordered Campbell's arrest, and he was sent north of the Ohio. The colored people of Philadelphia have called a meeting to agitate the question of their exclusion from the street cars, and to endeavor to bring about a change of sentiment on that
